Freshmen to Give All School "Hearts and Darts" Dance Tonite

"Hearts and Darts" is the theme of the freshman all-school sport dance to be held Friday evening, Feb. 11, at the Hotel Duluth ballroom. Dancing will be from 9 to 12, to the music of Walt Evans' orchestra.

Ben Finch, president of the freshman class, is heading the committee as chairman, assisted by Fritz Weddel, finance; Georgia Amundson, publicity, and Joan Erickson, decorations.

Weddel announced that the admission will be one activities card per couple. Miss Erickson has selected Valentine Day as the occasion to supply the "Hearts and Darts" theme, and appropriate decorations will bedeck the Hotel Duluth ballroom.

Judges Select Art Exhibit Winners

Modernistic tendencies are dominant in the Midwinter Art Exhibit which is on display in Tweed hall until Feb. 18.

At an open reception at Tweed hall on the afternoon of Feb. 2 winners were chosen in four fields by judges, Nancy Yager, senior art major; Dr. Dale Miller, chairman, division of fine and applied arts; and Earl Finberg of the Duluth News-Tribune and Herald.

Aristide Pappas won first prize in oil paintings with his "Far from the World". Two first prizes were awarded to Glenn Heilman—one in pure design and the other in applied design for a color film.

Graphic art first place winner was Robert Markstone with "Morning Cigarette".

Other winners in oil paintings were Louis Raymer, second prize, and Marilyn Sjoselius, third prize; pure design, Robert Humphrey, second prize, Nancy Yager's "Insight" third prize.

ROTC Announces Queen Contest

The Air Force Cadet Officers' club, Kiwi Squadron 2, are opening sponsorship of all "Sweetheart of the Corps" contestants to the clubs and organizations of UMD, Richard T. Todd, cadet captain, announced.

Deadline for organizations to nominate candidates will be April 1, Todd stressed.

The queen will reign over the First Annual Cadet Ball April 29 and at a formal review and inspection of the corps May 26, when she will present awards.

Actual selection of the queen will take place at a convocation April 12. Judges include H. E. Westmorland of

Demand for Grads Increases

The next few years will see an increased demand for college graduates in the fields of medicine, psychology, kindergarten and elementary school teaching and certain phases of electricity.

At the same time, competition will grow keener for positions in the fields of engineering, chemistry, pharmacy, law and personnel relations.

These conclusions were contained in a study prepared for the Veterans Administration by the Occupational Outlook service, Bureau of Labor Statistics, U. S. Department of Labor.

The nation's demand for health service is outstripping the supply of newly graduated doctors and dentists, the report said. It estimated that "about two-thirds of this year's 5,543 medical graduates (from schools accredited by the American Medical Association) and all of the 1,515 dental graduates will be needed to replace the physicians and dentists lost to the field annually because of death or retirement."

As a result, only a small expansion of the country's medical staff will be possible.

Recognition of Fraternities, Sororities Still "Up in Air"

Good Old Abe! Vacation for 604

Twelve hundred and eighty-two students are grumbling because of the lack of discretion on Abe Lincoln's part having his birthday fall on a Saturday. These sad specimens of the human race feel neglected—to them Saturday is just another day.

There will be a slight pause during which time the other 604 students give three cheers to Abe. He hasn't been abandoned by all his friends. These cheering students still love him, for it was Abraham Lincoln who saved the day for them. Why? They have Saturday classes!

Cheer up ye 1,282 bookworms; life's worst is yet to come. Next year Lincoln's birthday descends on a Sunday and then everybody gets gypped!

Chamber Music Resumes Feb. 23

The Chamber Music series, presented by the music department, will be resumed again this year Wednesday, Feb. 23, at 8 p. m. in Tweed hall.

Dvorak's "Terzetto in C Major", the "Quintet for Oboe and Strings" by McBride and the string quartet "From My Life" by Smetana will be presented.

The performers are Janet McEldowney, Marie Blewett, Richard Hoff, Marilyn Erickson, and James Smith, instructor of music and director of the ensembles.

The question of whether social fraternities and sororities will be recognized at UMD is still hanging in the balance.

Dr. Raymond C. Gibson, provost, said Tuesday that while the student-faculty committee report on the question is still on the table awaiting further study, a definite policy soon will be announced. Prior to this, another student-faculty committee will be appointed by Dr. Gibson to look further into the question. He stated that the very fact that the situation is so unsettled on the Minneapolis campus, behooves the administration of this institution to proceed with care so that a policy can be formulated that will work well for all groups. The committee report was tabled Jan. 13.

Dr. James Morrill To Speak on Campus

Elaborate plans are set for President James L. Morrill's arrival on campus. President Morrill will address the students of UMD at the morning convocation Feb. 16.

The importance of his first address to the branch student body is being emphasized by the tentative plans to enlarge the seating facilities by setting up chairs on the gymnasium floor and making use of a public address system.

Villa Play Casts UMD Actors

The Playmakers guild of the College of St. Scholastica will present "I Remember Mama", a narrative of Norwegian home life by John Van Druten, Feb. 27-28.

Five UMD students will fill the masculine roles. Joan Norgren, Villa freshman, will play the lead as Mama, supported by Neal Franey as Papa. Jack Coons will be Uncle Chris, Jack Powers, Mr. Torkelson, Toni Romano, Mr. Hyde and Richard Bardon, Dr. Johnson.

At the present time, the Minneapolis campus is the scene of much agitation with regard to the clauses in the constitutions of some fraternities which allegedly discriminate against members of minority groups.

Sororities Want Recognition

Meanwhile, two sororities consisting of women students state that they desire to be recognized officially.

Barbara Rotvig, president of Sigma Phi Kappa, stated, "It is our belief that a social organization such as a sorority aids not only the individual members but the community and the college as well. It cannot aid the community and the college to its fullest extent unless it can function under the recognition of the school."

The other society desiring official recognition is Delta Beta Gamma. Alice Anderson is president of that group.

The third sorority, Sigma Psi Gamma, has taken no official stand on the question as yet, according to Betsy Wesenberg, president.

According to Dr. Gibson, no social fraternity or sorority has applied to the school for recognition. He said that existing groups have been most cooperative with his office on all matters.

Claim No Discrimination Here

UMD sororities emphasize that they do not practice discrimination with regard to race or religion.

The committee which investigated the problem last year consisted of Harriet Harrison, Patricia Hodgson and Valworth Plumb of the faculty; and Harry Bianco and Marilyn Nelson, students. Miss Nelson is a member of Sigma Phi Kappa.

At the Student council meeting of Tuesday, Jan. 25, the council passed with one dissenting vote a resolution that "the . . . council hereby asserts the eligibility of social sororities and fraternities to petition the council . . . for official recognition as a school organization". The motion was made by Bill Dunton, Chronicle representative.

Tolerance Is Agreement In Mutual Rights, Not Objectives

There are two types of religious tolerance advocates—those who base their tolerance upon the common element in all religions and those who base it upon the synthetic nature of society.

The former group, i. e., the levellers, insult the intelligence of man by assuming that unity is impossible without uniformity. They are not actually advocating tolerance but rather a removal of honest differences of opinion. When this state of supreme felicity is attained, we will not love our neighbor because he is equal to us in the sight of God, but rather because he is the same as we are. Thus there is no tolerance or love, but merely agreement.

The second group understands that there is strength in diversity, and that tolerance must be a unifying concept above and beyond the question of opinion. This group goes straight to the cause of intolerance, i. e., attitude, whereas the levellers avoid the entire issue by advocating unanimity.

The founding fathers of this republic realized that in this country a central or unitary form of government was impossible. Instead, they created what we call the "federal" government. It was not based upon uniformity but the synthetic nature of society.

Advocates of the "One-Big-Happy-Family" theory (theologically called the Religion of Humanity) ignore the tremendous contribution that has been made to our society by varied and diverse religious groups.

Tolerance means: I think you're wrong — absolutely wrong, in fact; but to quote Voltaire, I'll defend to the death your right to think as you do, and, what's more, I'll love you because you're my brother, not because we agree with each other's objectives.

Dicks Writes Last Column

By Herbert Taylor

Dear Miss Dicks: I am a widow with 78 million dollars in the bank. I am 83 years old, bald, deaf, have a wooden leg and one foot in the grave. A handsome young man, 23 years old with a vivacious personality has asked me to marry him. His name is Reginald Fortescue and he says he loves me for my soft grey eyes (I have cataracts). Do you think he is sincere? Should I marry him?

Melinda Moribund

Dear Mrs. Moribund: My advice to you is to forget about Reginald Fortescue. He is obviously trying to take advantage of your senile stupidity and is only after your money.

Dear Reginald Fortescue: I do not have 78 million dollars but I am only 45 and I am sound of wind and limb. Come up and see me some time.

Dorothy Dicks

Dear Miss Dicks: I am a wife and mother of three living in comfortable circumstances. I cannot find peace, however, because I know my husband's income comes from his flourishing bookmaking business. He also makes good money bootlegging pre-war Scotch. How can I continue to live on these ill-gotten gains without losing my self-respect?

Mrs. Perry Mutual

Dear Mrs. Mutual: Put your mind at rest. Your husband's profession is nothing to be ashamed of, as long as he conducts it honestly. Remember, if he weren't making book, someone else would be.

Dorothy Dicks

Hits Statesman Policy

Dear Editor,

In recent issues of the STATESMAN, there have appeared editorials which we of the DFL club believe are flagrant violations of the privileges and responsibilities entrusted to the paper's editor.

The most recent of the editorials we refer to is the editor's attempt to eulogize the controversial Taft-Hartley Law.

We believe the UMD STATESMAN should be used to represent the views of all the students at UMD and not just the views of a few.

Henceforth, let's delete the unilateral political editorials from our school paper, in other words, with the exception of pure news items of UMD political activity, let's keep politics out of the UMD STATESMAN.

UMD DFL Club

There is a distinction between "flagrant violation" of the rights of the press and being in disagreement with the DFL club. If such a disagreement is deemed to be contrary to the rights of the newspaper the STATESMAN will continue to "unethically" serve the best interests of the student body.

On the editorial page we have in the past and will continue in the future to express our views on any controversial matter with which we wish to deal whether it be on an intra-campus or national subject.—Ed.

Forum Needs More Action

"What has happened to the Campus Forum project?" is one of the questions most frequently asked at UMD these days.

The truth is, as many have charged, that the Forum has bogged down for a number of reasons. Student council committees looking into the various phases of Forum activity have as yet made no official reports.

The athletic committee has made the most progress to date. Most of the queries about athletics sent to the Forum committee have been answered.

The services committee after a valiant attempt at securing a satisfactory response in the investigation of the cafeteria problem has not met with much material success. This committee has under its jurisdiction many other important problems which it has not had time to consider.

Gordon Schempp, originator of the Forum plan, is to be commended for his idea. Of late, however, even he seems to have lost his interest in his original objectives for the plan.

What is needed is a convocation to transport the facts which have been discovered to the student body. Such an assembly has the backing of the Student council.

An informative all-school convocation is the only way to keep this highly ballyhooed Forum from being a fizzle in the eyes of the students.

Art Critic Reviews Exhibit at Tweed

By William Ingberg

From the musty corners of Tweed hall the student artists brought forth their creations and after careful selection these works sprung to the walls to form an exhibit never before equaled in the annals of Tweed.

Those who admittedly do not understand the art of impressionism should definitely stay away. Although there are a few pieces which bear no mysteriously hidden intent, the queer manifestations of the innermost eye have the greater prevalence.

Most of these works have a very dark cast and leave the novice eye feeling that the artist was in a morose state.

Aristide Pappas who knows no lack of prolific craftsmanship exemplifies this type of work, as is evidenced in a number of his hangings.

In viewing each objet d'art the reviewer is likely to find a quality of reminiscence about them, dating back to the early 1900's.

Campus Profiles

Sounding the high note as our newest campus profile is Ruth Severson, UMD senior who is majoring in music and minoring in English. Ruth is president of the Iota Psi chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota, the National Music fraternity on campus.

Musically speaking, Ruth is a member of the band, choir, and the Buckhorns. In the past, she was active in the orchestra and several woodwind ensembles, as well as in the "Mikado" and "Elijah" productions sponsored by the music department. Her major instrument is the clarinet.

In addition to holding an assistantship in the education and psychology departments, and working as a part-time clerk at a downtown store, Ruth is practice teaching this quarter at the laboratory school. After her graduation this spring, Ruth would like to be a music supervisor in an elementary school.

Because of her active participation in student activities, Ruth was elected by her fellow classmates to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities". She is a member of the Student council and Sigma Psi Gamma, a social sorority on campus.

Chorus to Give Concert Tuesday

The University chorus, under the direction of Dr. Addison Alspach, head of the department of music, will give its second program of the current season, next Tuesday, at 8 p. m. in the auditorium. The Women's Glee club, Allen Downs conducting, will assist.

Gibbon's "Hosanna to the Son of David", "De Profundis" by von Gluck and a motet for two choirs, "I Wrestle and Pray" by J. S. Bach sung by the chorus will begin the program. Adele Rahko, Barbara Hein, William Diederich and George Conant will make up one of the choirs in the Bach number.

Mr. Downs, instructor of music, will direct "Here Yet Awhile" by Bach and "The Beatitudes" by Carl Mueller.

The chorus will then sing Benjamin Britten's "Hymn to St. Cecilia." Britten's "Hymn" is done in polytonal style, with the inflections of the poem (written by Anden) woven into the musical score. Iris Peterson is the soloist.

Clokey's "Flower of Dreams", McKinney's "Tutu Maramba" and "Prelude" by Ronald-Cain will conclude the Glee club section.

The final section of the program, "Ki K'Shimcho" by Lewandowski "Ezekiel Saw de Wheel" arranged by Burleigh and Warrell's "Fair and True" will be sung by the chorus.

Men's Glee Club Will Give Concert

The Men's Glee club of UMD, under the direction of Dr. Addison Alspach, head of the department of music, is giving a series of concerts around town, starting Feb. 22. That day they will sing for the Builder's Exchange at the Spalding hotel, and Feb. 24 they will share the stage at the Armory with Ruth Bryan Owen Rohde, Women's Institute attraction.

The band, with E. P. Mag-nell directing, will give a concert at East Junior one week from today.

Business Club Organizes Here

UMD students majoring in business and economics have organized a business club electing Richard Ketcham, senior, as their president. Other officers are Maurice Nordean, vice president; Marcella Spawn, secretary; Wesley Cato, treasurer; and Theodore Lee, student council delegate. Dr. Richard Sielaff, head of the department, is adviser.

The club is open to all UMD students majoring in business and economics. The club already has a charter membership of 200.

Speakers on all phases of the business world will be engaged to address the group.

Progressives Will Present Records

The UMD Young Progressive club will present Edward R. Murrow's "I Can Hear It Now", record album, at a meeting Thursday, Feb. 17, at 1 p. m. in room 209, Main building.

Walter Wirtanen, club president, stressed that everyone is welcome to attend.

Fritz Weddel Plays "Liliom" In Latest Guild Production

"Liliom", by Ferenc Molnar, the third Guild Players' production of the year will be staged Feb. 24, 25, and 26 in the university auditorium at 8:30 p. m.

The cast of characters includes Joy Saeks as Marie, Ann Olson as Julie, Jeanne Polinsky as Mrs. Muskat, Fritz Weddel as Liliom, Ward Evans as Ficsur, Louise Harjes as Mother Hollunder, Harold Hein as Policeman, Barb Hein as Louise, and Tom Theborge as Police Magistrate.

"Liliom", is the story from which the musical show, "Carousel" was taken. The story portrays the beauty of true love, on the part of Julie, yet Liliom never achieves his goal in life. After his death he does not enter heaven but does a term below, because he has done nothing on earth to warrant entering heaven. Liliom is a handsome ne'er-do-well whose cocky attitude and bullying ways are recognized by everyone except Julie who loves him so much she overlooks all his faults.

Liliom is played by Fritz Weddel, a newcomer from Two Harbors.

Second place winners in applied design and graphic art were Bertha Murphy with a textile and blouse design and Aristide Pappas' "Mother and Sons".

Lorraine Williams and Richard Kishel won the graphic art and applied design third places with "New Life" and a metal sculpture.

Awards were presented by the following art supply merchants: Kreiman's Book store, A & E Office Supply Co., A & A Art and Gift shop, Hankins Book store, and Decker's Art store.

Home Economics Courses Open

Housewives and future housewives who are worried about their cooking, can learn more about the subject at a new evening food demonstration course being offered at UMD.

The course, open to all interested adults, will meet in Room 2, Main, each Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. for eight weeks, beginning Feb. 15.

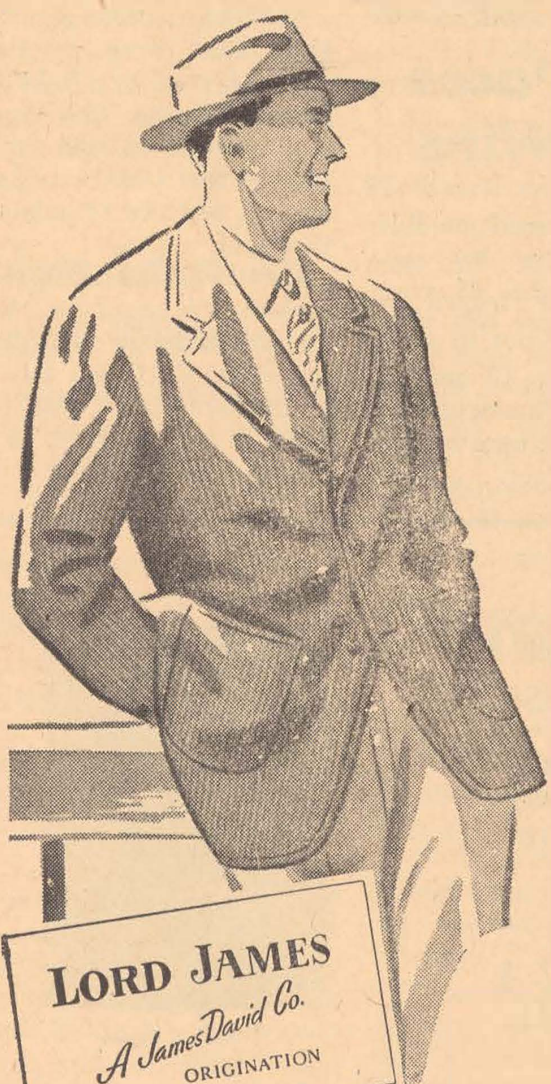

New ways of preparing economical, nutritious and tasty dishes will be included in the course offered by the office of general extension division in Duluth in cooperation with the UMD home economics department.

Gladys E. Dunton, instructor in home economics, will be in charge of the class. Her assistants will be Barbara Phillips and Gertrude Sevruck.

with ROY H. MAKI
Sports Editor, UMD Statesman

We doff our hat to the Bulldog puck squad for their surprising showing to date. Four straight wins against some pretty tough competition is nothing to be sneezed at. The sweetest victory to date is last Saturday's one over a highly-touted St. Cloud sextet.

The Saints, drawing heavily upon Range talent, have always been the top ranking ice artists in the conference. UMD, on the other hand, despite a lot of Range pucksters attending school, has iced a sextet embracing talent from the Twin Ports area alone. This speaks well of the brand of material turned out in the vicinity of Duluth and Coach Jensen deserves a big hand for the excellent job he has done.

The Bulldogs were definitely undermanned in their battle against the St. Cloud six as Gordy Eddols, a defenseman, and Norm Thompson, regular goalie, were sidelined due to injuries. Eddols suffered a severely bruised cheek bone while Thompson sustained a serious eye injury.

The Bulldogs have a penchant for beating strong Mankato teams on the Armory floor. During the 1946-47 season they handed champion Mankato a resounding 68-35 trouncing and last season they easily dusted off the Indians 47-35. The jinx should be good for at least another year.

When Duluth and Mankato tangle, the fans will see a pair of outstanding pivot men in action in the person of UMD's Rudy Monson and Mankato's Jim Korth. So far we doubt if any other center in the conference can match Monson for all-around ability.

Invitations have been mailed to about 20 colleges asking them to participate in UMD's third annual invitational ski meet which will be held Saturday, Feb. 19.

Ward Wells announced that the jumping event will be held on the Chester bowl slide while the slalom events will be held at Ojibway bowl at Fond du Lac. Cross country racing will be conducted at Chester bowl.

Nifty Forward Line Paces
Bulldog Six to Four Wins

Last Friday the Bulldogs garnered their fourth win in as many starts when they dumped the St. Cloud Huskies, last year's Invitational champions, 3-2, at Wheeler rink. The first line divided up the scoring evenly while Signorelli turned away 37 shots from the cage. The UMD squad played without the services of Gordy Eddols and Norm Thompson, both on the binnacle list. Eddols was injured in the first Bemidji game and Thompson was hurt in a Senior League affair.

The final game of the season will be played here against the Carlton College sextet, Feb. 26. Jensen expressed disappointment in not being able to enter the Minnesota Invitational Hockey meet. Entries have already been closed.

Previously the Bulldogs had beaten Bemidji, Hamline (6-2), and Macalaster (5-1). The Tomorrow night the UMD Bulldogs will meet the visiting Mankato Indians in a make or break tussle on the Armory floor. A loss for either team will eliminate their chance for a clear shot at the conference crown.

The game will pit Don Olson, who recently set a new all-time individual scoring record for Mankato, against Rudy Monson of the Bulldogs who has notched 93 points in five conference games.

On Monday night the Bulldogs will entertain the down-trodden Winona Warriors at the Armory in their last home appearance of the season. They travel to St. Cloud and Moorhead Feb. 18 and 19.

Meanwhile, in recent games the Bulldogs won two and lost one. Against St. Cloud a close defense and a capable, high scoring center enabled the Bulldogs to step out from a 28-33 halftime deficit to win 61-58.

In the game played at the Armory last Saturday, Rudy Monson caught fire in the second half to cage 19 of the 25 points he tallied during the night. Dick Hill contributed a nifty 14 points to the Bulldog total while Jim Hastings added another six. The Bulldogs connected on only 33% of their shots as compared with 35% by the visitors.

The UMD cagers took their first extended road trip in conference play Jan. 28 and 29 and suffered their initial setback to the Mankato five, 54-41, Friday night. Saturday the Bulldogs bounced back into the win column by edging out the Winona Warriors, 54-47.

At Mankato the high-scoring Duluthians were practically stopped "cold" by a tight man-to-man defense. This type of play worked so well for the Indians that UMD could only manage to score 14 points the first half.

On the Winona court the Duluth club found the "range" and proceeded to outscore the Warriors. UMD led the way at the half, 22-19, and managed to stay in front of the Winona quintet.
